Dear Families,

Another week of off-campus learning is completed. I hope that the students are enjoying the new way of learning and having some fun with the lessons. Families, please reach out to your child's teachers if there any obstacles or questions. Our goal is make sure that students are still learning without too many frustrations. Again, you may call the school office with any questions or materials you may need.

On Sunday we begin Holy Week. While we may not be able to physically participate in the Triduum services there are many opportunities to deepen your family's faith during this week. Many parishes have prepared videos of masses and many websites have activities that you can partake in with your family on your journey through Holy Week. This can be a time to grow closer to God and to accept his love and help.

Enjoy the warm spring weather!

Peace and grace to your family,
Mrs. Gudelis

Superhero Week

After much thought I decided that Bailie is a hero. I believe that with all my heart, all these kiddos have had their world flipped upside down. They have gone from their daily routines of school, practices, friends, church, family get-togethers and simply going to the grocery store as a family. To having all that taken away. I believe that it doesn't matter if you're 5 or 18, everything has changed for all. There has been great things that are happening with all this craziness, people are appreciating the work, dedication, love and friendship that people are showing. In a sense it is all teaching us that it is okay to slow down and enjoy the simpler things in life.

Yes, I also believe that the grocery store stocker, restaurant workers, doctors, nurses, teachers, truck drivers ... the list could go on and on are heroes too.

But, right now....my hero is our daughter.

Take Care
